WELCOME to the FMVA Studio Crawl

This year, the members of Fargo Moorhead Visual Artists are celebrating the 19th annual Studio Crawl, and we are happy you're here with us. Invite your family and friends. Tell your neighbors about it. Visit our sponsors and thank them for their support. The Studio Crawl is all about community!

We have a great art weekend planned and invite ALL to venture into the participating studios to witness the technology of art and the "magic" of art. Take a closer look. Ask questions. Be inspired.

Fargo-Moorhead Visual Artists was established in 2004 with a mission to promote and support quality visual artists in the Fargo Moorhead area by educating and encouraging visual artists and their communities. Since then, FMVA has continued to grow in providing art opportunities for our regional visual artists, patrons, and enthusiasts—including exhibitions, professional development, critiques, Visual Talks, socials, and networking opportunities.

The FMVA is a nonprofit organization, and volunteers are key to its success. Members form the board and coordinate the education, communications, membership, professional practices, and programming committees. These dedicated and generous individuals help FMVA fulfill its mission, partner with community, and provide artists with a collective voice. Let me know if you're interested in joining us.

The ongoing success of the Studio Crawl is a testament to the high quality and abundance of art in our community. Your participation the Studio Crawl and other FMVA events lets us know our efforts are successful. Thank you, and enjoy the Studio Crawl!

Constraint Art Exhibition Encounters/Spirituality with Nature

September 24, 2022 – January 14, 2023

FMVA's Constraint Art Exhibition "Encounters/Spirituality with Nature" at Plains Art Museum complements the Museum's Hazel Belvo exhibition, which features strong themes of nature and the artist's personal connections with specific places. FMVA artists will exhibit nature's encounters, power, and interaction that brought about a life change, realization, moment of reckoning, or awakening.

Head to Glyndon cuz this year I'm into bezel wrapped semi-precious stones. In March I was featured in the Fargo Monthly magazine. The interview features the variety of mediums I work in. My work at the Plains Art Museum titled, "Manipulated Palpitations," is a mixed media work. I like experimenting. Come and see another path I've taken.

We look forward to welcoming old friends and new visitors again this year and are excited to share new work developed during 2 Artist-in-Residency programs this summer. Theodore Roosevelt National Park in ND and Makoshika State Park in Montana welcomed me as their first AIR.

Most of the work this year has been created from ND clay and has a uniquely Dakota aesthetic and gleans inspiration from geology, topography, and archeology consultation work. The art available at the Studio Crawl ranges from miniatures to wall-pieces to large-scale vessels at all price points. As always, our Studio Crawl event features a once-a-year seconds sale, refreshments, and wheel-throwing demonstrations by request! You might also take a moment to say hi to Frisco, the new family tri-color paint horse. He's a friendly fellow!

I am inspired by flow, emotions, nature, and human beings. My interdisciplinary work is an investigation of the impact our surroundings have on our sense of self, be it the soul of the ground we stand on or the communities we engage or feel on the outside of. I look forward to sharing the latest installment of the Gray Matter Series, "Mother Trees" with you in the Gallery at the Arthouse. It's a multimedia collaboration four years in the making about the nature of interconnection, fungi, and the impact of our creative self.

Stop by and check out what has been happening in my studio. Most people are not familiar with the word encaustic. It's painting with a specific mixture of beeswax and damar resin. My work is a creation in progress. I paint with hot, melted wax and a propane torch. I also make use of oil sticks, pan pastels, photography, and found objects. Because the medium is organic, layered, and hard to predict, it requires both patience and spontaneity. But the outcome is a dreamy, ethereal image with texture and appeal unlike any other art form. Stop by my new studio and check out my new botanical pieces. All are welcome to view and feel the art that I have created.

LOCAL COLLECTIONS

Do you purchase local art?

Do you fill your home with local art?

Do you have stories of why you collect local art?

FMVA would love for you to share your stories of the local art you surround yourself with.

4 steps to participate:

1. Capture an image of the work.
2. Tell us about the art:
 - what feelings does it evoke?
 - what made you buy it?
3. Select your preferred Social Media.
4. Post image and story with the hashtag #fmvartists

Start today with your Studio Crawl acquisition.

FMVA MEMBER OF THE YEAR AWARD

SCOTT SEILER

Congratulations to Scott Seiler, the 2022 FMVA Member of the Year!

Scott is a fine art landscape photographer who documents the beauty of nature with his camera. From the rolling prairies to nature's wildflowers and the beauty of blooming fields, he shares what he sees with a unique perspective—a view shaped by his love of rural North Dakota landscapes, rural architecture, and geography.

His interests stem from a childhood on the rugged, unspoiled prairie of western North Dakota—roaming his family's ranch near Raleigh, ND.

Scott exhibits his work throughout the region and is a partner member artist at Gallery 4 in Fargo, a board member of The Arts Partnership, and a previous FMVA board member and active member of its committees.

We applaud Scott's work and are grateful for his enthusiastic and dedicated contributions to the Fargo Moorhead Visual Artists—and the entire arts community.

Save the date!

Arts for the Holidays is a juried event bringing together leading and well-established fine artists as well as young and emerging artists.
