WELCOME to the FMVA Studio Crawl

Dear Friends of the Arts,

Welcome to this year's FMVA Studio Crawl! Each fall, we open the doors to the vibrant creative spaces of our local artists, and once again, we're thrilled to invite you into the studios that make the Fargo-Moorhead art scene so dynamic, diverse, and alive. Thank you for continuing to support the arts and the incredible talent that calls this community home.

As we celebrate another fantastic Studio Crawl, I also want to take a moment to share some important news with you. Our long-time Managing Director, Jon Offutt, who has helped shape and guide the FMVA through years of growth and community engagement, will be retiring after this year's event. We are deeply grateful for his dedication, vision, and tireless work on behalf of our artists and our mission. Jon's impact will be felt for years to come.

Considering this transition, I will be stepping into the role of Managing Director following this year's Studio Crawl. While I will be stepping down as President, I am honored to continue serving the FMVA in this new capacity, working closely with our Board, members, and partners to support our creative community.

Thank you for being part of this journey with us. We hope this year's Studio Crawl leaves you inspired, connected, and more in love with the arts than ever before.

Warm regards,

FARGO-MOORHEAD VISUAL ARTISTS EVENTS

BIG ART EXHIBITION

It is the size of the show, not the size of the work, that makes the Big Art Exhibition a BIG deal. Each spring, the FMVA gives members an opportunity to show their work to the public at West Acres mall.

LITTLE ART EXHIBITION

Each year, FMVA members present the Little Art Exhibition in the South University Essentia Atrium. Become a member of the FMVA to participate. fmva.org

ART ADVOCATES EXHIBITION

The FMVA partners with the North Dakota Arts Education Association to present the Art Advocates Exhibition, which alternates years with the FMVA Constraint Exhibition. This exhibit is open to all artists who directly interact in educating others about the visual arts.

VISUAL TALKS LECTURE SERIES

Local artists talk about their careers, their work, and what sets them apart from other artists at the Visual Talks Lecture Series — four times a year, two in spring and two in the fall, at the Presentation Center inside the Plains Art Museum.

This is my third year hosting visitors to my jewelry studio. Using silver, copper, brass and wood I've made something for everyone; stacker rings, steampunk pendants and earrings, Viking inspired bracelets and found art jewelry. See how I have taken objects from nature and cast them in silver. Demonstrations given throughout the day. Rings made while you wait. Talk with me about commissioning a one-of-a-kind piece or bring your own jewelry for repair or resizing.

We look forward to welcoming old friends and new visitors to the studio. After 10 National Park Artist-in-Residencies and archeological projects, I completed my first international AIR in China last summer. Those three weeks resulted in some fresh internationally inspired ceramic vessels. The artwork at this year's Studio Crawl ranges from miniature to wall-pieces to large-scale vessels at all price points. As always, our Studio Crawl event features a once-a-year seconds sale, refreshments, and wheel-throwing demonstrations by request! While here, check out the camper van renovation utilized for the residencies and say hi to the donkey and horses!

I'm a painting professor at MSUM. My work blends abstraction and realism, often featuring themes of nature, water, stone, figure, and nude. My artistic approach is deeply influenced by both Eastern and Western aesthetics, and I explore a variety of media, including oil painting, acrylic, watercolor, and pastels. I have exhibited widely in the US and China, with my works included in collections at Plains Art Museum, Rourke Art Museum, North Dakota Capital building, and Microsoft, among many others. During the Studio Crawl, I will open my studio to the public and display my most recent works as well as some works created by my best students.

I hope you will include me in your Studio Crawl escapades this year! I started a one hundred day adventure in Arizona by creating a drawing or watercolor sketch with a music theme every day. I started in February and was inspired to do this along with others in the #the100dayproject. The project has been going on for many years. It was started by a professor at Yale who used the project as a design class assignment. I have been enjoying creating every day and would love to share my journey with you.

FMVA MEMBER OF THE YEAR AWARD

STEVEN MARK REVLAND

Furniture maker Steven Mark Revland has been designing and creating three dimensional art objects, primarily sculptural tables and chairs, for more than 50 years. He was fortunate to have had multiple appearances on HGTV's "Modern Masters" series in the late 90's, as well as numerous featured newspaper and magazine profiles. In 2023, he published his memoir, "simply revland" (how to succeed in life despite yourself) which is available in softcover, hardcover, and audiobook, as well as on the shelves of the Fargo Public Library.

Since 1974, Revland's whimsical conversation pieces have been transported to countless homes, offices, galleries, and museums, and they continue on that journey even as Revland enters his seventies. Throughout the many decades, Revland has created over two thousand pieces of furniture, and delightfully continues to hone his craft at his home studio in Fargo, North Dakota.

Revland began his artistic career as a musician, performing on WDAY TV's "Party Line" in 1963, as a nine year old. He went on to cut his first album in 1974, and still performs sporadically, resurrecting his old "act" from the '70s. However, it was high school wood-shop class in 1969 and 1970 that greatly contributed toward his decision to pursue a career as a furniture maker, knowing that any continued formal education was not in the cards.

Revland is currently the co-owner of Dakota Fine Art Gallery in Fargo, the 7th gallery he has owned since 1982. You can find his works there, across social media platforms, and his website, steverevland.com.
